COMMUNITY-WIDE INPUT SESSION PLANNED AS PART OF TOWN OF GREENVILLE COMPREHENSIVE PLAN DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

The Town of Greenville is just over half-way through their “Smart Growth” Comprehensive Plan development process, and is seeking community input regarding the planning effort. A community-wide input session will be held at the Greenville Town Hall on Tuesday, January 29th, 2008 from 6 PM to 8 PM (formal presentation by East Central Staff at 6:30 PM). The Greenville Town Hall is located at W6860 Parkview Drive. The public is invited to attend this meeting to review materials related to the Town’s “Smart Growth” Comprehensive Planning effort. These materials are conceptual in nature and will be used to generate discussion about the public’s general feelings regarding the amounts, types, and locations of growth, as well as regarding issues/improvements related to areas of existing development. The meeting will be held in an ‘open house’ format with materials displayed in a manner that will allow for sufficient review time as well as interaction with East Central staff, Town officials, and the Comprehensive Plan Steering Committee members.

(OVER)

In addition to this meeting, citizens are welcome to attend all meetings related to the Town of Greenville "Smart Growth" planning process. Meetings are posted on the Town website, www.townofgreenville.com, and on the ECWRPC website, www.eastcentralrpc.org/plangreenville. This website contains up-to-date information on meetings, and provides several options for providing comments. This allows the community to stay involved with the planning process, even if unable to attend formal meetings.
